Research and write an analytical essay by comparing ancient monarchies and non-monarchies (you can take examples from two monarchies and two non-monarchies) by covering the following topics:

Geographical Position and appropriation of territorial spaces

Political Ideology and Administration

Position of Women

You can choose civilizations we have covered in class, or work with civilizations we have not covered in class but can be relevantly used to develop a comparative analytical essay

Rubric:

1. 5 Marks for Structure (Introduction with thesis statement, body paragraphs with topic sentences and elaboration of the thesis statement points, conclusion with a thought-provoking commentary)- 2 body paragraphs is good enough for this essay
2. 5 Marks for proper incorporation of academic secondary sources (sources we have not covered in class) and providing good commentary on the selected academic sources
3. 5 Marks for development of the body paragraphs and providing clear analytical commentary
4. 3 marks for proper in text citation according to APA 7th edition format and at the end of the essay providing a works cited page
5. 1 mark for properly applying and having good command on the sources we have covered in class plus incorporation of proper information to undertake good analysis
6. 1 mark on following the instructions mentioned here in the pdf file

Instructions:

Do not plagiarize. Provide proper in text citation and then even if the plagiarism rate increases, I will overrule it due to presence of proper in text citation.

Please do not take any help from paraphrasing tools, Grammarly, and refrain from using any AI application to generate text. If you are found to do so your marks will heavily decrease and you might end up getting a zero

Times New Roman, Font Size 12, 1.5 line spacing

<https://guides.himmelfarb.gwu.edu/APA/av-youtube-video> (How to cite you tube videos)

Use those resources with proper in text citation according to APA 7th Edition format. Students have to research and find out at least two, maximum four, secondary sources. These sources must be scholarly, which means only journal articles, books and you tube videos published under a reputed academic channel can be used. However, please be mindful that you must properly cite and use resources which we have covered in class. Create a works cited page at the end of your answer on a separate page.
